

Your One Stop for Nutanix Learning

Get hands-on learning in a myriad of Nutanix product and use-case scenarios.

Uncertainty Brings Opportunity

With the cost increases and uncertainty of future product direction government customers are seeing from Broadcom's purchase of VMware, many IT professionals are now tasked to find alternative virtualization solutions, and many are looking to Nutanix and their enterprise-grade hypervisor, called AHV, as a feature-rich option.

Flywheel Data can provide you with any amount of information, hands-on learning, and cost-benefit analysis so you can make informed decisions.

We Are Nutanix Experts

No small business in the U.S. federal space has more Nutanix-certified engineers than Flywheel Data. We have a fully outfitted lab with multiple Nutanix clusters and have easy access to Nutanix resources because we have the highest level of partner status as well as many Nutanix alumni on staff.
