Products and Services

Flywheel Data is a VAR offering a range of information technology, data management and analytics, storage, hardware and software products and services which may include, but are not limited to, software licenses, subscriptions, data integration solutions, consulting services, and other related offerings (the “Products”).

The Customer acknowledges that Flywheel Data sources its Products from OEMs, Authorized Suppliers, or reputable third-party suppliers or partners. Flywheel Data will use its best efforts to ensure the quality and reliability of the Products but makes no representations or warranties as to the quality or reliability of those Products except as otherwise expressly set forth herein.

1. Products and Licensing

All resale Products under this Agreement, along with any associated maintenance or support services, will be subject to either the license agreement between the Customer and the OEM or, if no such agreement is in place, the OEM's standard license and support agreements. These agreements are either available on the OEM's website, included with the product, or will be forwarded to the Customer by Flywheel Data at the time of product delivery, provided they have been made available to Flywheel Data by the OEM.

Flywheel Data acknowledges that all separate terms, conditions, rights, and responsibilities between the OEM and Customer will apply to any orders placed by the Customer under this Agreement. The Customer acknowledges that Flywheel Data is not a party to any terms between the Customer and the OEM and agrees to seek satisfaction for any license or support-related claims directly from the OEM. However, Flywheel Data will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist the Customer with such claims upon request.

2. OEM Services

Flywheel Data may act as a reseller of OEM Services to Customer. OEM Services are sold only pursuant to the terms and conditions offered by the providers of such service, who may not be agents or subcontractors of Flywheel Data. Furthermore, Flywheel Data MAKES NO WARRANTIES OR REPRESENTATIONS RELATED TO ANY OEM SERVICES. In most cases, and except for the obligation to solicit OEM services, the third-party service provider is the only party responsible for providing OEM Services to Customer. The Customer is directed to contact the OEM provider directly with any issues, claims or damages related to such OEM Services and hereby release Flywheel Data and its affiliates from any and all claims arising from or relating to the purchase or provision of any OEM Services by the Customer from the OEM.

Orders

The Customer may place an order for Products (an “Order”) by presenting a written purchase order specifying the type and quantity of Products desired and any other data or information requested by Flywheel Data, unless another method of ordering has been specifically authorized or directed by Flywheel Data.

Orders are subject to acceptance by Flywheel Data, in some instances this may include Distributor and/or OEM acceptance in addition to Flywheel Data acceptance. Flywheel Data reserves the right to refuse any Order in its sole discretion. The Customer may not cancel an Order after such Order has been accepted by Flywheel Data, due to the Distributor and/or OEM terms of acceptance.

Pricing

Quoted prices are valid for the specified period, or 30 days from the date of the quote if no validity period is specified. Prices quoted in currencies other than US Dollars are subject to change due to currency fluctuations.

Prices quoted are, unless otherwise and/or specifically stated, exclusive of taxes, handling, shipping, transportation, duties, and other charges or fees related to the sale and delivery of Products. The customer is responsible for all such charges and shall pay all such amounts promptly unless it has provided Flywheel Data with a satisfactory valid tax exemption certificate authorized by the appropriate taxing authority prior to shipment.

Prices shall be determined by Flywheel Data in its sole discretion and may be modified from time to time by Flywheel Data. Price changes shall take effect on the date of notification to Customer unless otherwise specified by Flywheel Data; provided, however, that such changes shall not apply to Orders which have already been accepted by Flywheel Data prior to the date of such change.

Payment

The payment terms listed on any Flywheel Data quote are non-binding and based on the assumption that there is an established relationship between Flywheel Data and the Customer, and that the Customer has a credit application on file. If such a relationship has not yet been established and/or a credit application is not on file, Customer shall contact its Flywheel Data sales representative to verify or initiate the process. Please note that payment terms are subject to change at any time without prior notice.

Invoices are due and payable within the time period specified on the invoice, measured from the date of invoice. Flywheel Data may invoice parts of an order separately. The Customer agrees to pay interest on all past-due sums at the lower of one and one-half percent (1.5%) per month or at the highest rate allowed by law. The Customer may not deduct any amounts owing from any invoice. Any sales, use or other applicable tax is based on the location to which the order is shipped. In the event of a payment default, the Customer will be responsible for all of Flywheel Data's costs of collection, including court costs, filing fees and attorney's fees. Notwithstanding any term or provision to the contrary in any agreement between Flywheel Data and Customer or between Customer and any third party, the payment terms set forth in any invoice shall not be subject to any "pay when paid" or other similar term, provision or concept unless expressly agreed to in writing by an authorized representative of Flywheel Data.

Flywheel Data accepts credit card payments; however, Flywheel Data cannot accept or process credit card payments for any purchase order(s), invoice(s), order(s), or transaction(s) exceeding $99,000.00. Transactions above this threshold must be paid by ACH, wire transfer, check, or another Flywheel Data-approved non-card payment method.

Delivery and Title

Delivery obligations of Flywheel Data (including the delivery location and estimated delivery date) shall be as set forth in the applicable order.

Flywheel Data will make reasonable efforts to deliver the Products within the estimated timeframe. However, Customer acknowledges and agrees that delivery dates are estimates and not guaranteed.

Title and risk of loss or damage to the Products pass to the Customer upon delivery. The Customer is responsible for inspecting the Products upon receipt and promptly notifying Flywheel Data of any concerns within five days of the date of delivery.

Returns and Refunds

Generally, Flywheel Data does not accept returns of, or issue refunds for, Products, except where a written request for a return or refund is submitted by the Customer and Flywheel Data, in its sole discretion, determines that such request is appropriate (for example, in the case of a defective Product). Flywheel Data's ability to accept any return is further subject to the applicable OEM's return merchandise authorization ("RMA") process, if one exists. If Flywheel Data agrees, in its sole discretion, that a return or refund is appropriate, the following terms shall apply to such return or refund.

- 1) Returned Products must be in their original condition, unopened, and accompanied by all original packaging and documentation.
- 2) Flywheel Data reserves the right to charge a 10% restocking fee for returned Products.
- 3) Refunds will be issued using the same payment method used for the original purchase, unless otherwise agreed upon.
- 4) If and when applicable, Products may only be returned or cancelled in accordance with the applicable OEM's return policy.

Quotes for US Government

The Products qualify as "commercial products" or "commercial services" as those terms are defined in FAR 2.101. Only those FAR and DFAR clauses which are required to be inserted in subcontracts for commercial products or commercial services shall apply to this Agreement. Flywheel Data is exempt from the Cost Accounting Standards pursuant to 48 CFR 9903.201-1(b)(6). Use, duplication, or disclosure of the Products to and by the U.S. Government shall be limited in accordance with FAR 12.212 and 48 C.F.R. 227.7202-1 through 227.7202-4. Customer shall, and hereby agrees to, take all necessary steps to limit the rights and information relating to the Products that are furnished to the U.S. Government to the fullest extent possible.

License Terms:

Consistent with 48 C.F.R. 12.212 and 48 C.F.R. 227.7202-1 through 227.7202-4, end users must accept the terms of all of Flywheel Data's End-User-License-Agreement(s), Terms of Service, Terms of Sale, Support Terms, Maintenance Terms and similar legal instruments (collectively, "EULA"), prior to using any products and services provided or sold by Flywheel Data.

Regulatory Compliance:

Flywheel Data relies solely on the Information provided by the OEM and/or Authorized Suppliers when completing and complying with any representations and certifications, reporting requirements and regulatory compliance matters related to the Products. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing:

- The Trade Agreements Act ("TAA") compliance status of the Products listed on the quote is the most current information provided by the OEM to Flywheel Data.
- Electronic & Information Technology ("EIT") Accessibility Requirements of Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 ("Section 508"). Upon request, Flywheel Data will request an OEM's Voluntary Product Assessment Template ("VPAT") that discloses compliance with Section 508.
- Flywheel Data must separately acknowledge compliance with additional requirements such as Energy Star, EPEAT, IPv6, NIST, FIPS, FISMA, HIPAA, and similar requirements.

Flywheel Data offers no certifications, whether expressed or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of the Information provided by the OEM.

Counterfeit Parts:

Flywheel Data takes the authenticity of all components, parts, and items very seriously. To protect our Customers and comply with federal acquisition requirements, Flywheel Data only sources from OEMs, Authorized Suppliers, or suppliers that purchase directly from them. If a Product is ever suspected or confirmed to be counterfeit, or if any information arises that raises questions about its authenticity, Flywheel Data requires immediate notification from the Customer, OEM, or Authorized Supplier. This process aligns with Federal regulations such as FAR 52.246-26 and DFARS 252.246-7007/7008, which are designed to keep counterfeit parts out of the government and defense supply chain.

Conflict Minerals:

Flywheel Data is a privately held company, that provides its own logistics and professional services, and is not subject to Section 1502 of the Dodd-Frank Act ("Section 1502"). However, Flywheel Data is subject to DFARS 252.225-7052, Restriction on the Acquisition of Certain Magnets, Tantalum, and Tungsten, and will, upon written request from the Customer, provide a reporting template to any non-public OEMs that are not already participating in programs to avoid the use of conflict minerals in compliance with all Federal acquisition requirements and regulations.

Nothing in these terms shall be construed as requiring Flywheel Data to access, receive, or store Covered Defense Information unless expressly required by the scope of work. Any change in data classification or handling requirements shall be subject to written modification.

Basic Safeguarding of Covered Contractor Information:

In accordance with FAR 52.204-21, Flywheel Data shall flow-down the requirement to implement and maintain administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect Covered Contractor Information residing in or transiting through its information systems.
